LATEST NEWS: Two New Speakers Join The Expert Panel

Dear Colleague,

Welcome to the second Tight Oil Water Management Congress 2012, returning to Denver, Colorado, on October 29 - 30, with a fresh program and line-up.

Katharine Fredriksen, Senior Vice President for Environmental Strategy & Regulatory Affairs from Consol Energy will be speaking on how an operator is developing a systematic sourcing strategy to guarantee water availability while minimizing environmental impact.

Dan Larson, External Affairs Advisor for Enerplus will be covering a case study on Day 2 about how to identify and address the main environmental concerns over water contamination, the amount of water used in fracking to clear public misconceptions and also the strategies to better communicate with local communities.

This year's re-developed agenda will ensure presentations focus on only the most current and relevant topics, examining the latest proven technologies and innovations for driving down the cost per barrel of treatment, sourcing and logistics in tight oil plays.
